

general information on family history or genealogy

a number of persons are interested in family history without really knowing what the subject matter comprises and what kinds of research may be carried out. here we offer a brief introduction which is supposed to provide a first general view on the subject.

you can find information on the following points and issues:

- what is family history or genealogical research ?
- what kinds of family history can be researched? what types of information may be collected?
- on what level do we offer services to customers?