

manuel aicher owns büro aicher. he assumes sole liability for the office and its activities.

he signs responsible for the office structure, staff, internal admin, strategic decision making and external presentation like its website. this covers also all activities relating to

- genealogy
- inheritance investigations
- advice with respect to inheritance procedures
- assessment of problems encountered in genealogic research
- deciphering hard to read scripts and hand writing
- analysis of historical documents
- legal matters concerning right to do with carrying out genealogical research (e.g. protecting identity)
- psychological counseling relating to genealogical concerns
- family constellation work for the elucidation of mental and emotional dimensions with respect to family history
- publications